TWO UNLUCKY SCHOONERS

Last of a Great Fleet Caught in a Calm Inside the Capes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., Feb. 17.—Charles Ditton is in a precarious condition, between life and death, in the King's Daughters' Hospital, Portsmouth. He was brought in from Brighton, where he was horrfoly mangled at the truckers' manufacturing plant yesterday. He was caught between two cog wheels, one thirty inches in diameter and the other ten inches. Ditton was quick work of a fellow employe, who, not waiting to stop the engine, cut the leather belt connecting the machine, with the mo tive power. Ditton remained crushed between the wheels, and it was necessary to use crowbars to release him. Several fibs are broken, his back wrenched and torn, muscles exposed, and he is suffering terribly.

TAIL-ENDDERS CAUGHT.

The fleet which sailed from Hampton Reads on Wednesday last, and which consisted mainly of schooners which had been in the roads waiting fair sailing weather, is said by a shipinaster arriving here today to have numbered thirty-seven sail. The viewer said the passage seaward was a beautiful sight; that just as the tail of the fleet wound out two schooners among the last of the outward bound were struck by a calm and could not get out. The others all cseaped and nearly all went north.

LIEUTENANT REINSTATED

Brother Officers Believed He Had Been Unjustly Dealt With.

(Special to The Limes-Dispatch.)
NORFOLIK, VA., Frb. 17.—Mrs. McAlpine, the wife of Lieutenant Kapneth McAlpine, of the navy, whose home is in Portsmouth, received a letter to-day from the Secretary of the Navy, advising her that her husband shall be restored to his the Secretary of the Navy. At the ther husband shall be restored to his former rank in the navy. A year ago Leutenant McAlpine was ordered to an examining board for promotion to the rank of lieutenant-commander. The board recommended his promotion, but later he was discharged from the service. It was charged that he was addicted to drink. There was intense surprise when the action of the board became known, but its recommendations were approved and Lieutenant McAlpine was dismissed from the service. Every effort was made to have him reinstated. The department refused to reopen the case, though all his brother officers familiar with the circumstances feit certain he had been unjustly dealt with.

Suffered Ageny and Had to Wear Bandages All the Time.

ANOTHER CURE BY CUTICURA

Another cure by Cuticurs is told of by Mrs. Caroline Cable, of Waupoca, Wis, in the following grateful letter: "My husband suffered agony with sait rheum on his hands, and I had to keep them bandaged all the time. We tried everything we could get, but nothing helped him until he used Cuticura. One set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills cured him entrely, and his hands have been as smooth as possible ever since. I do hope this letter will be the means of helping some other sufferer."

VIRGINIANS WIN SUIT FOR HALF A MILLION

saved from instantaneous death by the Supreme Court of Texas Decides in Favor of Heirs of Dr. Kearney.

> received at Luray last night announcing that Edward Vertner, T. Kearney Vertner and Miss Lily Vertner, of Luray, the heirs of Dr. Thomas Kenrney, deceased; have won a final victory before the Supreme Court of Texas in a suit involving the title to an estate of 70,000 acres of valuable ranch land on the Rio Grande River in Texas valued at nearly half a million dellars.

River in Texas valued at nearly half a million dollars.

This suit, which has been pending for yoars, has been contested with the heirs of Dr. Kearney by the State of Texas, which claimed the title to the land as part of the public domain. The case is not only important for the large amount involved, but it is also a test case, which settles the title of other estates of immense value. The beneficiaries under this decision are the children of Mrs. Constance, Kearney Vertner, a daughter of Dr. Kearney. The family came originally from Port Gibson, Miss.

The engagement of Miss Lily Vertner, one of the three heirs to Russell Jones, of Baltimore, was recently amounced. Edward Vertner is a student at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., and T. K. Vertner is temporarily a resident of Baltimore.

Commonwealth's Attorney Mackey Charges That He Broke Faith.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ALEXANDRIA, VA., Feb. 17.—Justice
Jonathan magan and Commonwealth Atorney Crandal Mackey waited in vain for three hours to-day at the Alexandria County Courthouse on Fort Myer Heights for the appearance of Attorney James E. Clements, superintendent of the county schools, for whom a warrant had been issued, charging him with having committed a felonious assault on Attor-ney Frank Lyon, editor of the Alex-did not desire to prosecute and ould not appear at the hearing and the warrant was changed so as to charge only the was changed so as to change only the carrying of a concealed weapon. The justice of the peace and the prosecuting attorney waited from 10 c'clock this morning, the time set for the hearing, until about 1 o'clock this afternoon, when the case was continued by reason of the absence of Mr. Clements.

the absence of Mr. Clements.

It was stated by a friend of his that he absented himself from the foar of a jall sentence, Mr. Mackey charged that he had broken faith with him, having promised the night before to appear at the time set.

Mr. Lyon made a statement in which he acknowledged himself as the aggressor, saying that he mad called Mr. Clements to his office and had asked him it he had circulated reports defaming his character.

In the discussion, he said, he struck ents to his office and had asked him it he had oirculated reports defaming his character.

In the discussion, he said, he struck Mr. Cléments with his bare fists and the latter drew a pistol which he discharged twice, both balls finding lodgment in the wall instead of in Mr. Lyon's body. It said that then Mr. Clements had clubbed his weapon and had used it several times over his head. A number of bad scalp witonds bore testimony to the severity of his attack.

Mr. Lyon said the trouble grew out of his editorial utterances in the Montior, which is a weekly paper printed in the courthouse building. In this Mr. Lyon had said that Mr. Clements should not be continued as county superintendent of schools on the ground that he did not reside in Alexandria county but in Washington city. Mr. Lyon asserted that he had never carried a pistol for his porsonal protection and never expected to do so. He is a man of small statue while his epponent is large and robust, weighing about two hundred potinds. After the affray Mr. Clements was followed by officers of the county to his office in Washington where he was called out to submit to arrest. He declined to give himself up, claiming that the proceedings were illegal. Mr. Mackey and the officers remained in front of his premises until an early hour this morning when they left after obtaining the promise of Mr. Clements and the assurance of several friends, who were with him, that he would appear for trial to-day.

Since Mr. Lyon assumed control of the Monitor a few weeks ago he has made several editorial attacks on the gamblers of Alexandria county. In one editorial concerning a certain disreputable class of elitzens, he used the pirase "dogs of an inferior breed" in connection with the proverb mat "overted.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., Feb. 17.—

The brief news dispatch announcing that the Travelers' Insurance Company, of Hartford, would refuse to pay the $10,000 policy insuring the life of J. Samuel McCue, because the contingency of of a logal hanging was not considered, that to pay it would be against public policy and an encouragement of crime, has excited a great deal of indignation here. The argument in favor of the payment may not be legally conclusive, but the popular answer to the Travelers' is that no fraud, as far as McCue was concerned, entered into the contract, that he disease withing on earth that he could to avoid death and that the contention that to pay such a policy would be to avenge crime, is ridiculous, since it must mean, if it means anything, that man would cloimmit crime in order to lose his life to secure the face, of an insurance policy for the benefit of his heirs and assigns. The company's refusal is not locked upon as amounting to the loss or penalty upon the man who has been executed, but as a hardship upon his children and absolutely unjust one.
